curities both in the stock and bond list.

This clearing-up process was an inceptiable after effect of the turbulent sevents which had preceded it, and such operations are to be interpreted in the light of past rather than as a religious process. The liquidation has been painful by resistent of the inadequate demand to absorb it, new buying being restricted from the same cause that necessitated left heliquidation, the principal one being the continued stringency of the money market. While the process was a painful one, it was effective, nevertheless, in correcting the position.

The buying in small lots for investment continued a marked feature of the stay the downward course of prices was a factor in bringing funds back into the channels of the banking operations.

FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Bonds Offered by Government Are Engerly Takeu by Banking Iustitutions.

WASHINGTON D. C., November 24.—The events of the past week in the financial situation have centred around the offer at par for 3100,000,000 bids for $50,000,000 of 2 per cent, bonds for Panama Canal construction, and the offer at par value of $100,000,000 in treasury certificates running one year at 3 per cent. The announcement of this project by President Roosevelt in his letter to Secretary Cortelyou published on Monday, has done much to restore normal conditions in the money market.

The premium on currency, while somewhat obstinate, has been gradually decining, and the rally in the stock market on Saturday following the visit to Washington of J. Plerpont Morgan and George F, Baker Indicates that confidence is being restreed by the manifest cooperation between the government and big financial interests in New York. Some uncertainty prevailed early in the week regarding the terms of subscription and allotments for the new securities, but doubtful points have been cleared up from day to day by the statements of Secretary Cortelyou and other officials, and the manner in which offers are being received for the new securities build doubtful points have been cleared up from day to day by the statements of Secretary Cortelyou and other officials, and the manner in which offers are being received for the new securities building the properties.

European Buyers Have Contracted for Large Shipments of Grain-Corn Quiet.

NEW YORK, November 24 .- Last cek was a rather exciting one in the cotton market, especially the last few days, when there has been enormous trading and a violent jump in prices. This has been due to the stampeding This has been due to the stampeding of the heavy short interest, which had been created by Wall Street and outside operators, who had been attracted to the cotton market on the thoory that it afforded an excellent opportunity for getting rich quick by plunging heavily on the selling side, with the view of covering the cotton at a much lower range of prices. It appears that a short interest among this class of operators alone was built up approximating between 300,000 and 400,000 and along the cotton from the recent decline of 10 1-2 to 10 3-1 cents when the market broke to the basis of 10 to 10 1-1 cents for the general option list towards the close of last week. Instead of taking it, their anxiety to wipe out the buil pool led them to increase their short interest to such an extent in their operations for a still further decline that their operation became unwieldy.
